EDITORIAL

Hello my dears,

Well, the crispy days of Fall are here and it's time once again to drag (pardon the expression) out all those wonderful, fuzzy angora sweaters and tight wool skirts. One of my personal favorite fall fashions is the trench coat. I remember all those drizzling New York evenings when I would make my way to the "Club 82" in a slouch hat and a big, blousy trench coat cinched at the waist as tight as my bones would allow and boots up above my knees so that they disappeared under the hem line of my coat.

Isn't the seasonality of women's clothing half the fun? I mean, women's clothing changes so drastically as the year progresses. I remember in the darkest, coldest winters on the east coast that sometimes the only motivation to get out of bed was a fur coat. And in the 1960s, slick rubber was so popular and I have noticed a recent resurgence of rubber among the younger crowd. It was all so codified when I was young. I love that today's generation gets to try out all sorts of fun stuff without a thought as to being hassled on the street or even being arrested. Remember, there was a time when all drag performers had to have a suit and tie on underneath what ever they wore. Prehistoric, huh?

Today, men's clothing has reached an all-time high of sensuality, and I applaud that. I will always advocate the wearing of women's clothing for the simple and pure pleasure. But, these days there is such a wide variety of things to wear on the men's side of the store that the fun is not limited to one sex anymore. I mean darling, those spandex bicycle pants and washed silk shirts are fabulous. Of course, one still feels like a man. Our goal is and will always be to really feel like a woman. And we hope to always bring you new ways to capture that feeling.

*Best,
Kim Christy*

Miss California Continental

Fresh from the foggy Bay Area of San Francisco comes this annual pageant, hosted by the formidable Miss Janet Cory. Once again we must salute her management skills and her extreme composure under stress. We felt, as usual, pampered and well-cared for.

On these pages we see some of the awesome beauty exposed in the bathing suit competition. Over the years, we have seen a continual raising of standards in the area of the bathing suit competition. More tasteful suits and aerobicized bodies account for this.

On this page: Dancers from the Dance! This year's contest provided us with really fine dancing, especially from the rather athletic contestant above and our own Toni Colleen below left.

Gowns, gowns, gowns. What are we here for after all? Of course, the talent and the bathing suits are nice, but what we really want to see are barrels of bugle beads and truckloads of sequins applied in impossible abundance over the sleekly clad bodies of men dressed as women.

Shopping

Dear Kim,

This is the first letter that I have ever written to you, and I do so for several reasons. First and foremost is to extend my subscription to F.M.I. for another year. Along with this letter is a money order for $45 to cover the cost of a one year's subscription. The last issue that I received was Volume 18, Number 6 - No. 50.

Secondly, I would like to compliment you on publishing the creme de la creme of all magazines covering the fields of transvestism, crossdressing and female impersonation. You have no equal in the business and I mean that sincerely.

I have subscribed to your magazine since issue No. 32, I think, and before that I picked it up at the local adult book store, if they were not sold out by the time I got there. So my collection is lacking a few issues. You don't know of anybody who would be willing to part with any of their back issues for a fair price do you? If you do, you may give them my address so that they may get in touch with me.

I guess I should tell you a little about myself. I am a 40-year-old TV and I have been dressing for about 30 of those 40 years, and I might add loving every minute I am dressed as "Kristi Jo."

I am 5'10" tall in my stocking feet and weigh about 165 lbs., but I am beginning to lose some weight. I must tell you that I love leather mini-skirts and I have several in different colors. High heels are a must, usually 4" or higher. Stockings and garter belts are also a must, there is no such thing as pantyhose for this girl.

Please tell all of your readers not to be afraid to go out and purchase anything they need to be more feminine because the sales people are there to make sales — not pass judgement — on a particular persons chosen lifestyle. I personally have purchased everything that I have while in my male persona and have never had any trouble, and I have bought everything from skirts, dresses, blouses, shoes, stockings, hand bags, accessories and lingerie to feminine hygiene products.

What I am trying to say to my fellow sisters is, "Don't be scared!"

Before you go into any store, have some idea of your approximate sizes. If your still scared or shy, just tell the salesperson that it's a gift for your sister, wife or mother. You would be surprised how much help you get. In fact this is exactly how I purchased most of my leather mini-skirts, most costing in excess of $100. The salesgirl thought that I was sweet to be purchasing such an expensive gift for my girlfriend. I have often wondered what she would think if she found out that those skirts were really for me instead.

Finally, keep those beautiful "ladies" that grace the pages of F.M.I. coming. I still find it hard to believe that Morelle DeKeigh was not really born female, she is a knockout. I wish I looked half as pretty as she does.

Sincerely,
Kristi Jo

P.S. I hope you don't mind that this is handwritten. I have been complimented on my feminine handwriting so much that I now love to show it off to everybody. . .

Dear Kristi,

First of all, I love your handwriting and we were almost tempted to print your letter as it is so that our readers could appreciate how feminine it is. Thank you for all the encouraging words and keep up that shopping! I really agree with you. I think that many of us are way too concerned with the salesperson's reactions to our purchases. It's none of their business. And in stores where those folks work on commission, how can they afford to judge?

Best,
Kim

Pretty Girl

Theresa

Dear Kim,

Since F.M.I. has come into my life I feel like a new woman, so to speak. After paging through a few issues of your publication, I've become inspired to share my experiences.

Age thirteen is my first recollection of affection for crossdressing. I still don't know why or how — a question many a TV has wondered.

I would occasionally fake an illness from school to have my run of the house for a day. My heart would race as I walked around in my older sisters' underwear, dresses and heels. Often times they would argue over wrinkled or missing items — little did they know it was their younger brother raiding their closets.

Being discreet, I was able to keep up this practice for three years. Then one afternoon while experimenting with make-up, my sister Cheryl walked in on me. It wouldn't have been the end of the world, except for the fact I was in her prom dress. I expected the worse and sure enough she told our mom that evening. I was told in no uncertain terms that this behavior must stop and I was grounded.

Eventually the incident quieted down and I returned to my ways, being extra cautious. Months later my eldest sister Denise, who lived on her own, brought it up. I was somewhat surprised and embarrassed about the fact that she had heard. She was very understanding and went as far as to offer her help. I asked why and she said, "Because you're my brother and besides, I want to see what you look like as a girl!" I couldn't pass up that invitation.

That weekend we met at her apartment and she had already laid my outfit on the bed. It consisted of beige panties with matching brassiere, pantyhose, slip and a short red dress. While dressing, she placed cotton in the bra cups for a bosom. I'll never forget the image of Denise fawning over me as she expertly applied my make-up. Then she ran a curling iron through my somewhat long hair, which was a suitable length for boys then.

Both Denise and I were amazed when she was finished. I spent the rest of that afternoon and many others modeling her other dresses, skirts and blouses.

Several years have passed, and besides those experiences, I've remained a closet TV. At times I get the urge to go out, but I'm worried about passing in public. I enjoy reading the letters from those with enough poise and confidence to venture out. I realize it takes a lot of courage and I admire that. In fact I've been wrestling with the idea of telling my girlfriend of my desires. I would be receptive to any ideas you may have on that. Thanks.

Best wishes,
Theresa

Dear Theresa,

Thanks for the lovely pictures and letter. As you know, I just love these mini-histories that our readers provide. Your experiences with your sister sound very exciting. I hesitate to give advice in regards to telling your girlfriend. But with any issue like that, these are some questions I would ask myself. Will it harm them? Is this just a hobby with me, or an important part of my life that anyone close to me should know? What are my motivations and expectations for telling them?

Good luck,
Kiu

Feminine Protection

Dear Kim,

I've just obtained my copy of F.M.I. Volume 19, Number 1. The layout of Julie Bond is just super! I also enjoyed reading "Why I am a Sissy," by Susan Brodert. Like Susan, I too have been following Miss Highboots instructions and have observed regular "female periods."

The subject of feminine hygiene has made me curious since about the time I started to get the urge to dress.

Recently, I discovered a way to heighten the excitement of mimicking female periods. The woman mimicking female periods should obtain a snug-fitting pair of panties, a box of Excita condoms and a tube of K-Y Jelly. To provide feminine protection, a box of Kotex Overnight Pads (unbelted) or Modess Hospital Type (belted) napkins is required.

The sissy should lubricate her "clit" with K-Y Jelly before putting on a condom. When the excitement becomes too much she should "have it off," and then "tuck herself in" behind the sanitary pad.

"The subject of feminine hygiene has made me curious since I was of the age to dress."

In the course of moving around, the condom will slip off, and thus the flow will begin. The sissy will feel a sensation of dampness between her legs. Most of the flow will be absorbed by the pad.

The sissy should continue wearing this pad for about four hours. After this time, she should change her feminine protection.

Best,
Rochelle

Dear Rochelle,

What a charming suggestion. I am constantly amazed at the ingenuity of my readers. The whole process you describe sounds quite efficient.

Best,
Kim

Going for the Big Time

Dear Kim,

Hi! My name is Bill, but I prefer

Debbie. I am a devoted TV, and have been for about 10 years now. I am also a devoted admirer of you and F.M.I., both of which have been a great source of inspiration to me.

I am very fortunate to have a girlfriend, Barb, who enjoys Debbie as much as Bill, and likes me to assume my role of a female as much as time will allow. She is now convinced that I am very good-looking as a woman, and should pursue the chance to do some work as a female impersonator or as a model.

Barb is so sure of my possibilities that she has become infatuated with training and transforming me. Personally, I feel that I do look pretty good, but not good enough to do modeling or impersonation. I would love to do so, or at least give it a very strong try, but I'm not convinced it is feasible.

Right now she has me taking ballet lessons and modeling lessons at a world-renowned modeling school. And I do so as a woman, and am treated strictly as a woman, due to the fact that Barb is good friends with the managers of both establishments. Since Barb is very, very BI, she has begun to bug me about developing breasts through hormones, and has already found a doctor to take care of it.

I have been aware that she would love to make me a full she-male, but I am not sure it's that important to have real breasts. She says that I would have great success if I had them, as I could easily and openly present myself as a woman. Well, I agree that it's true, but do I really look good enough in whole to warrant the development?

I am a firm believer that if you need help, consult an expert. So I thought that I would write to you in the great hopes that you may give me some honest advice and answers.

I have enclosed several photos for you to look at, and to publish in F.M.I. Hopefully you will find me an acceptable enough subject for your magazine. I would be very interested in your comments, both positive and negative, concerning my appearance.

Do you think I have a feminine enough appearance to pursue a possible future as a model or female impersonator?

Do you think that the development of breasts would be of enough benefit in this pursuit to go on hormones?

What is the best way to locate various companies who may be interested in me for the areas I am pursuing?

Once I have received enough feedback as to my appearance, we will know where to proceed. I realize that you are a very busy person, but I am hoping that you may be willing to help me by providing your professional, honest opinion. I strongly feel that you are the person most qualified to advise me, if you're willing, whether or not I should take my ambitions realistically or not.

If you would like to see some more photos, or may be interested in publishing more, I am happy to send you some more. From full dress to lingerie to whatever you would be interested in seeing. If you know of anyone or any company which may be interested in me, I would be happy to send them photos also.

Once again, I realize how busy you are, but I would be indebted to you for any thoughts and comments from you and people you know. One day I hope to be good enough to be a feature in F.M.I., and possibly even do modeling for your wonderful company. Keep up your great work!

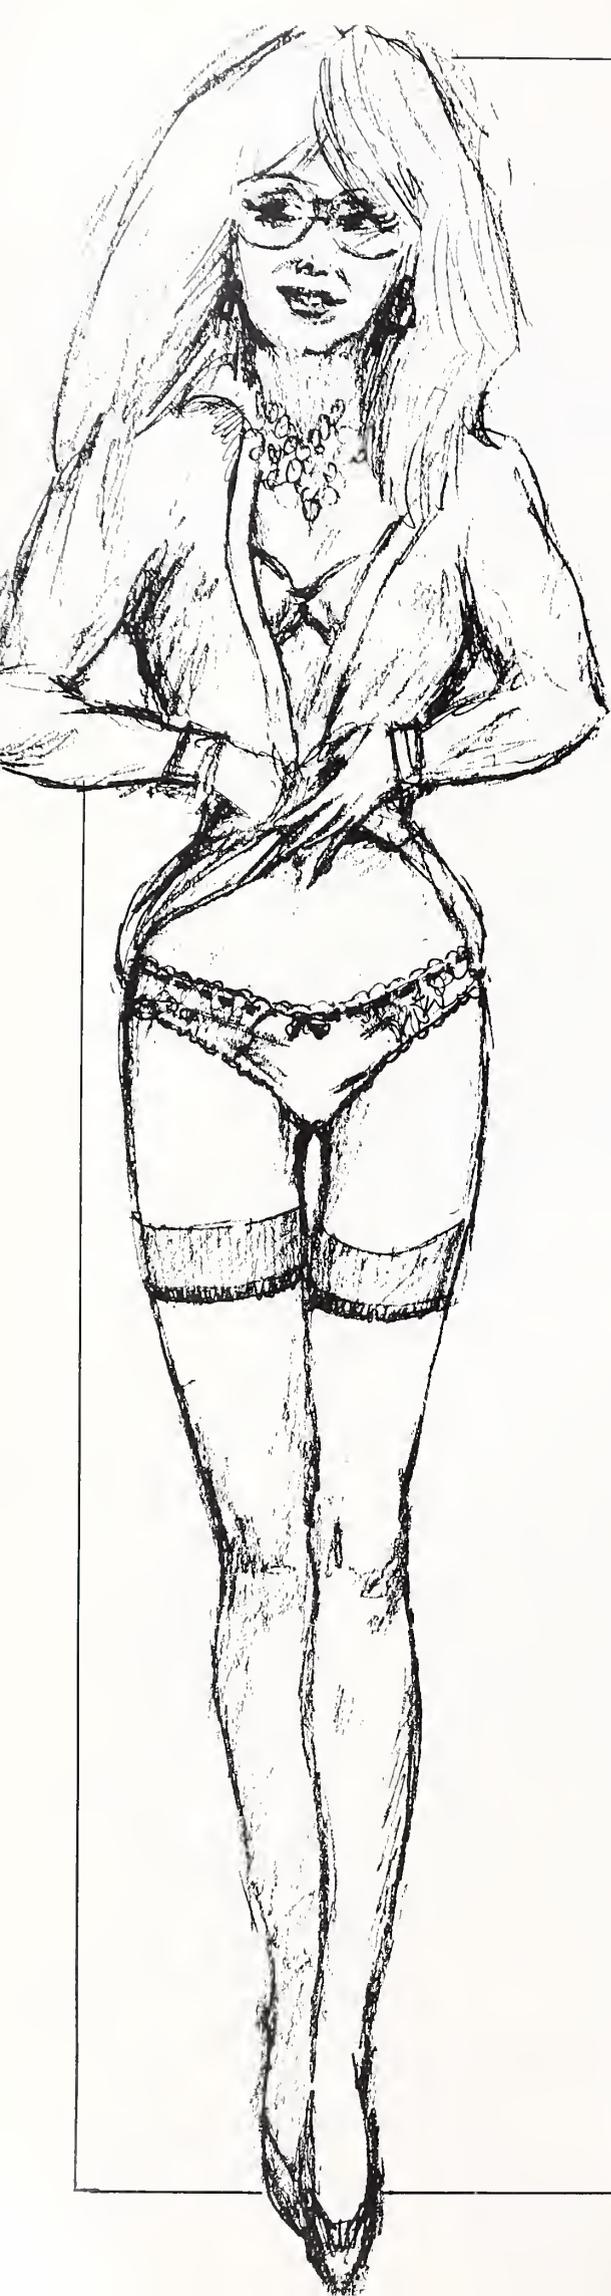

Sincerely,
Debbie

Dear Debbie,

Well, your life certainly sounds full of possibilities. I think your photos are very attractive and your legs are sensational, but I have the feeling you get a lot of good feedback on your legs. Once again, regarding hormones and more permanent changes, seek some counseling first. It's not to be done cavalierly. Regarding work as a female impersonator: anyone can work as an impersonator as long as they have a quick wit, talent and a lot of drive. The money you make is negligible.

Regarding finding other kinds of work to pursue your interests, I think you are already doing it. Continue to contact those places that appeal to you with open offers of help and I think you might get the response you want.

Yes, we would love to have even more photos of you to titillate our readers. If you are ever going to be in the area, write to us and let us know.

*Best,
Kim*

Femme Art

Dear Kim,

One has to love your magazine! I like the way you present it and the girls you present. There are many of us out there that have to remain in deep cover with what we practice in secret. It's too bad that there can't be more acceptance of the emotions that some of us feel.

At any rate, here is a little story for you. I love drawing girls. Do with it what you want. I will look forward to more of your stories and pictures.

Love,
Rachael

Dear Rachael,

Thanks for the lovely drawing and the exciting letter. I love how big the stuff you send is. Please send us some more soon, our readers will love it.

Miss Legs

Dear Kim,

Thank you! So often we are guilty of using these two words infrequently or without meaning. Kim, my thanks is directed to you and other helping friends across the country who have inspired those of us embarked on this personal journey of self-discovery.

Like many of your readers, I've enjoyed F.M.I for some time — it's been a motivator and a confidence builder — but I have not taken an opportunity to write, until now. My story sounds familiar: fascination with older sisters' clothing during my early teenage years, denial of my crossdressing tendencies in my late teens and early twenties and rediscovery of the desire, the need, the joy in my late twenties.

It was during this period of rediscovery, this powerfully renewed and irresistible urge to develop my femme side, that I happened upon the Baton Club in Chicago. It was there in 1987 that I wound up in conversation with “Chilli Pepper,” the notorious female impersonator.

At one point, Chilli asked me, “Do you dress?” Well, perhaps it was the drink-induced, smoke-filled haze of 3 a.m., but for the first time in my life I confessed my secret fantasy, and to a perfect stranger at that! Chilli left me with some haunting words that evening, in effect saying to hell with my fears and inhibitions... get them out of my system right away while I was still young enough to enjoy dressing.

She disabused me of a second concern as well, that I was too tall (I'm over 6 feet). She reminded me that I was just several inches taller than some of the world's most glamorous models. Nice rationalization, but very encouraging. Thanks Chilli!

I had never dressed head-to-toe before, but after this meeting I was determined to undertake this exciting journey. With much nervous anticipation, I introduced myself to Muriel Olive. For years now, Muriel has been helping to make dreams come true. It was during this period of early 1988 that I started dressing completely and exploring womanhood for the first time.

Throughout this process, Muriel has been an exceptional tutor, a kind and caring person and a first-rate artist when it comes to changing boys into girls. I highly recommend Muriel Olive to any of your readers interested in transforming their fantasies into reality. Thanks Muriel!

Things have moved quickly over the last 18 months, thanks to Chilli's inspiration and Muriel's coaching, but they never seem to move quite fast enough. I was lucky to win several "Legs" competitions in 1988 — being tall isn't so bad after all. I was named First Runner-Up in Muriel's Miss Poconos pageant in May of last year, and was ultimately crowned Miss Poconos last fall.

I recently started performing in various clubs and shows, but I am always looking for new opportunities. I am now planning some music videos, just for fun. I have been fortunate to work with a great photographer in Mariette Pathy Allen (some of her work is enclosed) and a fabulous dress designer.

Just last month, over a two-week period in New York City, I joined friends at dinner theater, clubs, restaurants, private parties and even attended The Night of a 1000 Gowns formal ball at the Waldorf Astoria. As I got out of the Lincoln Town Car at the Waldorf that evening, me decked-out in a sumptuous, strapless gown and two men attending to the door, I could not help but affirm just how dreams can come true.

Well, I'll close here. My primary point in writing is to thank you and folks like Muriel who serve as powerful beacons in what for many is a lonely sea of confusion and despair.

A secondary message is also intended, and that is to say: Come on girls and give it a try! Yes, be cautious and respectful of "going public" as a woman, but do give it a try. I don't think this thing can be cured, at least I hope not, so why procrastinate? I have family concerns, fears about being too tall, etc, but I will be darned if I am going to deny myself an absolutely terrific life experience. So go ahead. Take that first stockinged, high-heeled step. You won't regret your decision, as I will never look back on mine.

Sincerely,
Jessica

Dear Jessica,

What an inspiration you are! I love your photos and thank you so much for sending them. Not many of us have as glamorous a coming out story as you do, well, except for me. I have had to delete the contact information for Muriel as she would have to express her consent for that. Maybe that's something you could arrange. Write more soon of your adventures.

Best,
Kiin

In this delightful update, we join Heather with her friends Coco and La Rey. We are privy to the most intimate details of their three different lifestyles. Coco talks about working as a sex star in Kim Christy's recent She-Male Solo Series, as well as upcoming

We are treated as well to a luxurious morning with Heather in assorted lingerie and at-home wear. She is candid and chatty about the many facets of her life as she primps and does her nails.

And finally we are treated to Heather's fabulous bubble bath. She cavorts, smokes and sips champagne as big clouds of bubbles steam up around her and waft off into the early morning light. We waft off as well and bid adieu to Heather and her friends.

Through special arrangements with La Rey, Lana was brought into our studios for a highly-detailed makeover by our staff and consultants. Lana had a lot going for her to begin with, but she felt that as a contestant for La Rey's Universal Ball this November, that she'd certainly benefit from some professional help. Well, we all had quite a good time. Kim was directing everything as usual, and La Rey sat on the side lines keeping us all in stitches with her anecdotes of pageants past. Maria wordlessly and briskly transformed Lana into a lavish beauty reminiscent of Susan Hayward. After a basic make-up and hair job, we tried on an assortment of gowns, each more glittering than the next. Finally, to test her talents Lana modeled her bathing suit for us and we were agog. Lovely legs and a pert bust line gave her quite a silhouette. It was a great dry run, and we wish Lana and all the contestants for the Universal Ball the best of luck.

WHY I AM A Sissy

I am one of those transvestites who enjoys being “forced” to dress in female attire by a dominant, aggressive woman.

I am happily married, but my wife and children know nothing of my transvestism and I would never want them to find out.

My female wardrobe is kept in suitcases and boxes and stored in a private storage area which I rent for that purpose. Whenever I have an opportunity to dress up, I get my things out of the storage area. I do travel from time to time in my job and I usually take along a suitcase of female clothing.

For a long time I was very frustrated because I could not find a dominant woman to be my mistress. I spent five years searching for the right woman and wrote to dozens of ladies whose ads appeared in various contact mags. I did meet one or two of my correspondents, but the ladies either wanted too much money or they were unattractive to me.

About four years ago I began corresponding with a dominant lady who lived in a city that I visit fairly often on business. We exchanged several letters and photographs and then made arrangements to meet.

We met in a restaurant in her city while I was there on a business trip.

Yvonne was everything I had ever dreamed of in a mistress. She was a tall and slender blonde of Scandinavian ancestry with the face and figure of a model. Most of all I was attracted to her face which had an impassive, cruel look that sent chills up and down my spine.

“Most of all I was attracted to her face, which had an impassive cruel look that sent chills up my spine.”

In high heels, Yvonne was a good three inches taller than I am (my height is 5'9½"). She was from Norway and spoke with a slight accent that I found captivating. She had been working as a high-priced call girl for an escort service. She had become concerned with the AIDS crisis and wanted to find a few steady clients and concentrate on serving their needs rather than taking her chances with the escort service.

There was a price to be paid, of course, and it was not an insignificant amount, but I felt she would prove to be worth the extra money.

The next day I made a trip to my bank and met Yvonne again for lunch. In return for a single cash payment, Yvonne agreed to provide the services I was looking for on a regular basis for a period of one year. I had to furnish her with a medical report and was required to sign a waiver form that her lawyer had prepared.

In return, she gave me a signed receipt for my payment, a copy of the waiver, a letter stating the general nature of our agreement and a list of instructions and an extensive questionnaire. I returned home looking forward with great anticipation to my first session with Mistress Yvonne.

I arranged my business trips to occur roughly once every two weeks and scheduled my appointments with Yvonne for Fridays and Saturdays. This way I could spend nearly forty-eight hours, and in some cases a longer period, serving as Mistress Yvonne's sissy slave.

Yvonne's questionnaire and instructions were designed to give her as much information as possible about my background as a sissy, my wardrobe as it then existed, and my fantasies. She was a thorough professional. She had told me of taking other transvestites as slaves so she had a good idea of how to deal with me.

Two weeks later I was back in the city where Mistress Yvonne lived. I concluded my business at noon and returned to my hotel and called Mistress Yvonne to tell her I was ready to begin my training.

Half an hour later I stood in front of Yvonne's front door in a luxury condo high-rise building in one of the city's best neighborhoods. I was dressed in my business suit. Inside the attache case that I carried were the few items of female attire Mistress Yvonne had instructed me to bring along.

Yvonne had buzzed me through the security door in the lobby and knew I would be waiting outside her door. As instructed I did not knock or ring the door bell. I simply waited for the door to open. It was a good five minutes wait.

As the door opened I dropped quickly to my hands and knees and knelt humbly at my mistress's feet which were elegantly shod in a pair of open-toe black patent pumps. My servitude had begun.

The hallway was empty but someone might come at any moment. Yvonne wasted no time in buckling a dog collar around my neck and attaching a leash to it. She picked up my attache case and led me inside and closed the door.

At Yvonne's command I paid homage to her feet and made a pledge of submission and obedience.

An hour later I was transformed into a sissy male maid called Larissa. I wore a garter belt, nylons and high heels. A cocktail apron was tied around my waist. I was not allowed to wear panties so that my male organs were fully exposed. I was topless. My face was made up in garish fashion. Earrings dangled from my ears and a long necklace of faux pearls swung around my neck. I wore no wig but a length of red ribbon was tied in a bow in my male hair. My toenails had been lacquered beforehand according to Yvonne's wishes and now my fingernails were painted as well in the same bright pink shade.

"I bedded down on the carpeted floor of her walk-in closet."

I spent much of my first session with Mistress Yvonne on my hands and knees learning proper sissy humility. My first night at Mistress Yvonne's I bedded down on the carpeted floor of her walk-in closet, nestled in among the hems of her dresses and gowns. I had earned the right to wear one of my mistress's baby doll nighties as a reward for my good behavior.

The next morning I was instructed to bathe and dress in my male maid outfit. After serving breakfast to my mistress I spent the morning doing household chores with my mouth around a ball gag and light restraints on my wrists and ankles.

After serving lunch to my mistress, I helped to give her a pedicure and she showed me how this was properly done.

That afternoon she took me to a sex shop dressed as a male with female underthings on beneath my suit. I was not allowed to wear my regular socks, so my nylons were visible under my trouser legs. There were hints of makeup on my face and I was also perfumed. I felt very effeminate being dressed this way.

The young men who ran the sex shop smiled knowingly when they saw me following Yvonne around like a puppy as we looked through the displays of sex gadgets. At Yvonne's command I purchased a butt plug, an anal probe, a vibrator and a rubber sleeve that fit over the penis as an aid in masturbation.

We also went into a large department store and Yvonne picked out a very severe girdle for me and several pairs of panties.

Back in her apartment I was dressed in my new girdle, nylons and high heels and fully made up again. Some mirrors were set up in the living room and I was put through a period of instruction on feminine deportment, walking, sitting, standing, etc.

I fixed Yvonne a light supper and then cleaned up the kitchen afterward.

When it was time for bed I begged Yvonne for permission to masturbate and she granted my request after I grovelled at her feet. She made me do it standing up using my new rubber sleeve. That night I slept again on the floor of Yvonne's closet.

The next morning I dressed again as a male maid and served my mistress breakfast in bed. Then I showered and dressed again as a male except for the garter belt, panties and stockings I wore underneath my suit. All traces of the bright pink polish had been carefully removed from my toenails and fingernails. Before arriving home I would change out of my female undergarments and store all of Larissa's things in their hiding place. It would be another three weeks before I would return to Mistress Yvonne.

Since that first session I have been through many exercises with Mistress Yvonne. She stays within my limits but is very clever and creative in her feminizing of me. She is particularly good at verbal and psychological humiliation. There are always a few surprises.

Recently she dressed me as a dominatrix and had me help with the training of another sissy client.

There is never any sex between myself and Mistress Yvonne. After a session as Larissa I usually return home to my wife raring to go.

I have just completed my first year with Mistress Yvonne and will sign up for a second tour, so to speak, in another two weeks. This is an expensive proposition but I can honestly say that Mistress Yvonne is worth every penny I have given her.
